

The 4th Annual Academic Conference for China Law Society

Social Law Branch

The annual academic conference for China Law Society Social Law Branch in 2011 will be held in Wenzhou University (Zhejiang Province) from on 11 to 13 November, 2011. This is the 4th annual academic conference for all social law scholars within mainland China. The theme for this session is “Development, Livelihood and Social Law”. Welcome LLRN members who are interested in China social laws to attend this conference.

I. Sponsor

- China Law Society Social Law Branch,
- Wenzhou Municipal Law Society,
- Wenzhou University, School of Laws and Politics

II. Topics

Theme: “Development, Livelihood and Social Law”

Sub-topics

1. Fundamental Theories for Development, Livelihood and Social Law for Contemporary China
2. Three Labor Rights and Legal Regulations on Collective Labor Relations
3. Implementations of “Employment Contract Law (2008)” and “Social Insurance Law (2011)”
4. Legal Problems on Education, Public Health and Housing
5. Labor Relations within Private Economy
6. The System of Labor and Social Security Law, and Law School Education

III. Time and Location

Time: from 11 to 13 November, 2011

Location: Wenzhou, China

IV. Application

LLRN members who are interested in above topics or China Social Law, you may contact with Secretariat of China Law Society Social Law Branch, Peking University Labor Law and Social Security Law Institute by email to cslnet@126.com, or Professor Ye Jingyi by email to yezipku@pku.edu.cn. Once you received our formal invitation, you may attend this conference. Transportation and Boarding are at your own expense. Registration fee of RMB 500 is required.

Secretariat of China Law Society Social Law Branch
Peking University Labor Law and Social Security Law Institute

November 6, 2011