

CALL FOR PAPERS FOR THE 2025 MARCO BIAGI AWARD

In furtherance of its mission to stimulate scholarly activity and broaden academic interest in comparative labour and employment law, the International Association of Labour Law Journals announces its Call for Papers for the 2025 Marco Biagi Award.

The award, which has been made annually since 2009, is named in honour of the late Marco Biagi, a distinguished labour lawyer who was a victim of terrorism, assassinated because of his commitment to civil rights. Marco Biagi was one of the founders of the Association.

The Call is addressed to doctoral students, advanced professional students, and academic researchers in the early stages of their careers (i.e. with no more than three years of post-doctoral or teaching experience).

- The Call invites papers concerning comparative and/or international labour or employment law and employment relations, broadly conceived. Research of an empirical nature within the Call's purview is most welcome.
- Submissions will be evaluated by an academic jury to be appointed by the Association. Submitted papers should include an abstract.
- The paper chosen as the winner of the award will be assured publication in a member journal, subject to any revisions requested by that journal.
- Papers may be in English, French or Spanish. The maximum indicative length is 12,500 words, including footnotes and appendices. Substantially longer papers will not be considered.
- The author (or authors) of the paper chosen as the winner of the award will be invited to present the work at the Association's annual meeting, details of which will shortly be announced on the website of the Association. Efforts are being made to provide an honorarium and cover travel expenses to facilitate the in-person presentation of the paper.
- The deadline for submission of papers is 31 October 2025. Submissions should be sent electronically in Microsoft Word format both to (1) Massimiliano Delfino, the President of the Association: delfino@unina.it and (2) the secretariat: labourlawjournals@gmail.com
